COOLIDGE NOT TO PRESS TAX REVISION NOW

Indicated Administration Won't Demand Action This Winter

NO SPECIAL TERM

President Also Has Not Indicated Intention to Call Session March 4

Washington, Nov. 12.—The administration has no present intention of pressing for tax legislation at the coming short session of Congress, it became known today after Secretary Mellon had conferred with President Coolidge.

It is understood Mr. Mellon does not consider it practical to take up the problem at this session because of the lack of time and in view of other difficulties entering into the situation. Neither has the administration given any consideration so far to the calling of a special session of the new Congress after March 4 to consider tax reduction.

The administration officials feel it would be rather futile to renew the tax fight at the short session, since the problem has just been thrashed out and the result law is just now going into effect.

What Congress itself may attempt, without recommendation from the administration, is another question. Some elements in the Senate and House want immediate action despite the fact that the Republican party leaders seem agreed with the White House as to the inadvisability of such a course. Others are pressing for a special session after March 4 and it remains to be developed whether they will muster sufficient strength to convince the President that such a session should be called. Unless Mr. Coolidge issues a special session call the new Congress will not meet until a year from the coming December. Those who are urging a special session point out that the President declared after the act of 1924 was perfected that he favored another revision at the earliest opportunity and they argue that a delay until late in 1925 would not carry out that program.

Mr. Mellon conferred for more than half an hour this morning with the President. It is understood the question of taxation was discussed in some detail.

W. H. Webb, president, has resigned, because of expected absence from the city during the winter months and Carl Nelson has resigned because of press of business.

Sen. Brookhart's Lead Falling

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 12.—Senator Smith W. Brookhart's official majority over Daniel Steck, Democratic candidate for the United States Senate, went to 540, a new low mark, when the election board of Shelby county discovered an error which wiped out a loss of 69 votes previously recorded. All but 21 counties had made official reports up to that point.

Good business through the Northwest, because of the big crops, was reported by managers, and Mr. Tipton expressed great hope over the future development of the Northwest.

Among those in attendance are two former managers of the Bismarck branch, R. C. Battey, now manager of the International Harvester Company branch office in Billings, Montana, and P. R. Fields, manager at Grand Forks. Bismarck was chosen as a central location for the conference, which is attended by the following, in addition to Mr. Tipton, Chicago, district manager: J. L. YOUNG WOMAN AIDED SLAYERS, POLICE THEORY

Chicago Detectives Hear Boy's Story That Young Woman Held Car Door Open

HAVE SLENDER CLUES

Expensive Funeral Is Planned For O'Bannon Notorious Chicago Gunman

Chicago, Nov. 12.—(By the A. P.)—A school boy's story that he saw a young, fashionably dressed woman drive the automobile in which escaped the three slayers of Dion O'Bannon, notorious gang leader, florist and high-jacker, was used as a guide today by the police in their efforts to run down the slayers.

Anthony Perschke, 13, said he was passing O'Bannon's flower shop when the shooting occurred. One of the three men ran out, bumped into him and knocked him down, he told investigators. The man ran to the corner and crowded into the automobile, the door of which was held open by the woman, the boy said.

The story renewed the "find the woman" activities of the police, began when they heard of a quarrel between O'Bannon's lieutenant and a rival gangster over the slapping of the latter's wife by Margaret Collins. Another girl, who figured in the investigation, was Mary Loude, 17, who was held after she came to the federal building, inquiring for the wife of Louis Alterle, a friend of the slain leader.

Detectives also sought any connection with the slaying of O'Bannon and the shooting last night of James Markus, who said he was a truck driver from Canton, Ohio, although his clothes of expensive make bore New York labels and his hands belied the story of his occupation, according to detectives. Markus said two men shot him and dragged him into an alley.

Investigators have checked up on all theories advanced but admit frankly that they are without much definite information.

Preparations for the dead gangster's funeral, set for Saturday from an undertaker's chapel, indicated that it will be one of the most pretentious funerals ever accorded an underworld character, surpassing even that recently of Frank Capone, gunman, slain in a pistol fight with policemen. A cortege a mile and a half long and $50,000 worth of flowers, paid tribute to Capone's memory and since Capone was a lesser light than O'Bannon so also will his funeral be outdone.

VIOLATIONS OF ELECTION ACT IS ALLEGED

Investigation Is Opened in Minneapolis of Efforts For Schall

Minneapolis, Nov. 12.—Charges alleging violation of corrupt practices act in support of the candidacy of Thomas D. Schall for the Senate were submitted to the Hennepin County grand jury today by County Attorney Floyd Schall, Republican.

Former Sen. Schall, Republican, defeated Magnus Johnson, Farmer-Labor senatorial candidate, at the recent election.

The allegations are made in a letter received by Mr. Olson from Henry Teigen, Senator Johnson's secretary. The Teigen letter was placed before the grand jury by Mr. Olson today and actual investigation of the charges made is expected to be started this afternoon.

GPYSY SCARE IS EFFECTIVE

Wisconsin Man Refuses To Pass Hotel Site

Chippewa Falls, Wis., Nov. 12.—Twenty-five years ago the luring smile of a roaming gypsy fortune teller convinced Charles A. Everett to consent laughingly that she "looked into his future."

Out of his palm she painted a vision in short phrases and the young man's face lost its laughter. "Next time you pass that hotel," she said, and she pointed down the street where stood the then Stanley hotel, "you fall dead."

In the quarter of a century that has passed not once has Everett ventured from his small confectionery store to the downtown district for the route would take him past the "dead line" where once stood the Stanley Hotel.

The old hotel is gone, burned to the ground years ago, and in its stead a new hotel stands, but Everett still shuns the sight made sinister by the gypsy's prophecy.

Ninety-four per cent of all livestock shipping associations are in the north central states.

More Than 350,000 Shares of Stock Are Sold in Half Hour of Trading

EARLY GAINS MADE

Prices Are Well Maintained in Spite of Tremendous Profit-Taking

Trading keeps up
New York, Nov. 12.—An enormous amount of profit-taking in the leading railroad and industrial issues failed today to check the excited trading in stocks, total sales running over 2,000,000 shares for the fourth consecutive full session. More than two score issues attained new peak prices for the year.

New York, Nov. 12.—Speculation in stocks continued to run riot in today's market, another deluge of buying orders sending more than two dozen issues to new peak prices for the year in the first half hour with total sales in excess of 350,000 shares in that period.

Early gains ranged from fractions to four points, and except in a few cases were well maintained throughout the first hour's trading despite an enormous amount of profit-taking. Buying was stimulated in a reduction of the annual rate of call money from 2 1/2 to 2 percent.

YESTERDAY'S TRADE BIG

New York, Nov. 12.—All recent stock exchange records were swept off the boards yesterday in a wild burst of bullish enthusiasm that reached its maximum intensity in the industrial shares, not gains in which ran from 1 to nearly 10 points.

The day's total sales, falling just below 2,500,000 shares, were the largest since Nov. 12, 1919. The total number of shares traded in—545—was the largest in all time and 28 above the previous record established only yesterday. The general price leverage of the industrial shares broke through to the highest level since the spring of 1920, while the general railroad average was the highest in seven years. The number of new 1924 lists established during the day was 69, 52 of which were industrials, and in addition 18 other stocks, duplicated their maximum quotations of the year.

Trading in all securities markets was suspended for two minutes at 11 a. m. in observance of Armistice day, while the Chicago and other wheat markets were closed for the day.

Arrangements will be made by the local A. C. for Mr. Carton to meet representative business men, in the interest of promoting the deep waterway from the head-of-the-lakes at Duluth to the Atlantic Ocean. The tidewater project has been endorsed by Governor Nestos and by A. C. Sorlie, Governor-elect, as a method of bringing the Atlantic Ocean several hundred miles inland and lessening the cost of sending North Dakota products to Europe.

Mr. Carton will visit other cities in the state.

END OF "RUM ROW" ON ATLANTIC IS PREDICTED BY TREASURY HEADS

Washington, Nov. 12.—(By the A. P.)—The "End" of "rum row" is predicted in a Treasury Statement published today embodying a review of Coast Guard operations in October. A "large increase in the number of seizures, including seven foreign vessels, acting as 'supply ships,' reported. Progress in combating liquor smuggling is attributed in part to the increase in Coast Guard facilities provided by the last Congress and the ratification of the treaty removing certain restrictions on the seizure of rum runners.

When all the boats and men provided for become available, the report says, the service expects to be able to stop the boats at all of the "sweet" localities which are described as being too widely scattered for completely effective work at present.

In citing the seizure of the steamer Sagatind, "with 38,000 cases of whisky aboard," the report remarks that "it is surprising to note the number of Norwegian vessels engaged in the liquor traffic, 10 having been observed recently in the rum fleet off the Atlantic coast."

FEWER RURAL CHURCHES ARE NOW PROPOSED

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 12.—Fewer rural churches, shorter sermons and greatest cooperation between various denominations is the aim of the American Country Life Association, which closed its seventh annual conference here last night.

After five days of discussion, committees reported that denominational strife was seriously hampering rural advancement. Cooperation was prescribed as the remedy.

Thirty pastors agreed to shorten their sermons to 30 minutes and report results to national headquarters. Delegates also agreed to work for the advancement of the community generally, rather than for the respective denominations.

BIG GATHERING OF EX-SERVICE MEN IS FETED

Annual Dinner of War Mothers and Legion Auxiliary Is Given Here

GOV. NESTOS SPEAKS

Urges Unity in Building of State—War Songs Are Sung at Banquet

Two hundred ex-service men and women of Burleigh county, members of the American War Mothers and Legion Auxiliary participated last night in the annual Armistice Day banquet tendered the ex-service men by the two women's service organizations, at the Grand Pacific Hotel. The usual big "wood" was served for the ex-service men, and they ate and sang with a lot of zest.

Governor R. A. Nestos, made a brief address. The Governor, praising the idea for its preservation of the spirit of good fellowship, also took occasion to praise the community service work of the American Legion, and to emphasize upon the members' opportunity they have of doing a service in times of peace. The Governor declared that the more he came in contact with the workings of the organization, the more certain he was of the fundamental soundness of its principles and he declared that as the Legion enlarged its scope of activities for the nation and for the various communities the criticism that had been made of some of the activities would be forgotten.

The Governor said he was glad to see that as the war dropped behind in years, the bickering of the period just after the war were being forgotten and the great lessons were being emphasized.

In passing, the state's chief executive renewed his declaration of faith in North Dakota, declaring it was a great and sound state, and asked united support of everyone in all causes for the upbuilding of the state.

Mrs. August Schaefer, president of the American Legion Auxiliary, was toastmistress, and was jointly in charge of the supervision of the arrangements, with Mrs. T. R. Atkinson, president of the Fort Lincoln chapter of the American War Mothers, the two organizations sharing equally in the arrangements.

Mrs. F. J. Keeler of Dawson, who has an unusually pleasing voice, sang two solos, and was heartily applauded. She was accompanied by Mrs. Leisher.

The invocation was by Father Halvorson, Spencer House led the community singing, with L. C. Sorlie at the piano, and the ex-service men responded with songs of war time, and after.

Statistics show that there was a shipwreck a day last year.

PET PARROT OF LATE SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE GROWS VERY DESPONDENT

Washington, Nov. 12.—Despondent and drooping, Polly, pet parrot of the late Secretary Wallace, today showed symptoms of grieving itself sick over the loss of its master.

Given a prominent place in his office eight months ago when presented to the Secretary by Dr. W. M. Mann, a department ornithologist, the parrot, a rare Bolivian specimen, had become the constant companion of Mr. Wallace.

The bird would fly to his shoulder while he sat at his desk and when he was not there waited eagerly for his step. It would set up a great racket each morning at the master approached and listened willingly to all he had to say.

Now the step comes no more and grief is breaking the bright spirit of the bird. Department officials have tried to ease its sorrow but all efforts have failed and they admit they don't know what to do.

More Than 350,000 Shares of Stock Are Sold in Half Hour of Trading

EARLY GAINS MADE

Prices Are Well Maintained in Spite of Tremendous Profit-Taking

TRADING KEEPS UP
New York, Nov. 12.—An enormous amount of profit-taking in the leading railroad and industrial issues today checked the excited trading in stocks, total sales running over 2,000,000 shares for the fourth consecutive full session. More than two score issues attained new peak prices for the year.

New York, Nov. 12.—Speculation in stocks continued to run riot in today's market, another deluge of buying orders sending more than two dozen issues to new peak prices for the year in the first half hour with total sales in excess of 350,000 shares in that period.

Early gains ranged from fractions to four points and except in a few cases were well maintained throughout the first hour's trading despite an enormous amount of profit-taking. Buying was stimulated in a reduction of the annual rate of call money from 2 1/2 to 2 percent.

YESTERDAY'S TRADE BIG
New York, Nov. 12.—All recent stock exchange records were swept off the boards yesterday in a wild burst of bullish enthusiasm that reached its maximum intensity in the industrial shares, net gains in which ran from 1 to nearly 10 points.

The day's total sales, falling just below 2,500,000 shares, were the largest since Nov. 12, 1919. The total number of shares traded in—645—was the largest in all time and 28 above the previous record established only yesterday. The general price average, the industrial shares broke through to the highest level since the spring of 1920, while the general railroad average was the highest in seven years. The number of new 1924 issues established during the day was 69, 52 of which were industrial, and in addition 18 other stock dupliques their maximum quotations of the year.

Trading in all securities markets was suspended for two minutes at 11 a. m. in observance of Armistice day, while the Chicago and other wheat markets were closed for the day.

Heavy profit taking sales checked the upward swing in the local commodity markets. The cotton market was strong and active, extreme gains of 40 to 50 points, however, being cut to net gains of 2 to 17 points at the close. Coffee futures were 28 to 32 points higher at one time but ended the day with a net loss of 12 points. Sugar futures showed an extreme advance of 7 to 9 points, which was cut nearly in half at the close.

MANY ATTEND LODGE RITES

Personal Representative of President Sent to Boston

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 12.—Representatives of the nation and the state were assembled here today to attend the funeral of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, member of the Senate for 31 years and for much of that time an important figure in national affairs. An early train from Washington brought to Boston large delegations to express the mourning of the legislative and executive branches of the government. Secretaries Hughes and Weeks, assigned to represent the Cabinet, were among these arrivals. Yesterday Capt. Adolphus Andrews, Naval aide to the President, came to the city at the behest of President Coolidge to his personal representative, called on the family of Senator Lodge and tendered the President's sympathy. Special cars attached to the Federal Express from Washington today brought committees of the House and Senate. Twenty-four states were represented in this delegation.

END OF "RUM ROW" ON ATLANTIC IS PREDICTED BY TREASURY HEADS

Washington, Nov. 12.—(By the A. P.)—The "End" of "rum row" is predicted in a Treasury Statement published today embodying a review of Coast Guard operations in October. A "large increase in the number of seizures" including seven foreign vessels, acting as supply ships, is reported. Progress in combating liquor smuggling is attributed in part to the increase in Coast Guard facilities provided by the last Congress and the ratification of the treaty removing certain restrictions on the seizure of rum runners.

When all the boats and men provided for become available, the report says, the service expects to be able to stop the leaks at all of the "worst localities" which are described as being too widely scattered for completely effective work at present. In citing the seizure of the steamer Sagatind, "with 38,000 cases of whisky aboard" the report remarks that "it is surprising to note the number of Norwegian vessels engaged in the liquor traffic, 10 having been observed recently in the rum fleet off the Atlantic Coast."

U. S. Government Patrol in North Dakota Minnesota. To Be Strengthened

Winnipeg, Canada, Nov. 12.—To combat the smuggling of aliens into the states of North Dakota and Minnesota from Manitoba and Ontario the United States border patrol is to be strengthened by additional motor patrols and guards, according to information received by the Winnipeg police.

Many aliens who tried to evade the patrol have been captured since September 1 but with the strict immigration laws attempts are becoming more numerous and additional patrols are required to cope with the situation.

25 IN PATROL
Minneapolis, Nov. 12.—Announcement of the formation of a border patrol of 25 immigration inspectors to aid in combating the smuggling of aliens across the border was made here today by Charles W. Seaman, immigration inspector.

The newly formed border patrol will supplement the work now being done by immigration inspectors stationed at the border points in North Dakota and Minnesota. They will be equipped with automobiles and will work out of a new office which has been established at Grand Forks.

FEWER RURAL CHURCHES ARE NOW PROPOSED

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 12.—Fewer rural churches, shorter sermons and greatest cooperation between various denominations is the aim of the American Country Life Association, which closed its seventh annual conference here last night.

BIG GATHERING OF EX-SERVICE MEN IS FETED

Annual Dinner of War Mothers and Legion Auxiliary Is Given Here

GOV. NESTOS SPEAKS

Urges Unity in Building of State—War Songs Are Sung at Banquet

Two hundred ex-service men and women of Burleigh county, members of the American War Mothers and Legion Auxiliary participated last night in the annual Armistice Day banquet tendered the ex-service men by the two women's service organizations, at the Grand Pacific Hotel. The usual big "feed" was served for the ex-service men, and they ate and sang with a lot of zest during the evening.

Governor H. A. Nestos made a brief address. The Governor, praising the idea for its preservation of the spirit of good fellowship, also took occasion to praise the community service work of the American Legion, and to emphasize upon the members the opportunity they have of doing a service in times of peace. The Governor declared that the more he came in contact with the workings of the organization, the more certain he was of the fundamental soundness of its principles and he declared that as the Legion enlarged its scope of activities for the nation and for the various communities the criticism that had been made of some of the activities would be forgotten.

The Governor said he was glad to see that as the war dropped behind in years, the bickerings of the period just after the war were being forgotten and the great lessons were being emphasized.

In passing, the state's chief executive renewed his declaration of faith in North Dakota, declaring it was a great and sound state, and asked united support of everyone in all causes for the upbuilding of the state.

Mrs. August Schneider, president of the American Legion Auxiliary, was toastmistress, and was jointly in charge of the supervision of the arrangements, with Mrs. T. R. Atkinson, president of the Fort Lincoln chapter of the American War Mothers, the two organizations sharing equally in the arrangements.

Mrs. F. J. Kepler of Dawson, who has an unusually pleasing voice, sang two solos, and was heartily applauded. She was accompanied by Miss Leshner.

The invocation was by Father Halloran. Spencer Boize led the community singing, with L. C. Sorlien at the piano, and the ex-service men responded with songs of war time and after.

That corn thrives in North Dakota climate even in growing seasons such as 1924, declared by experts the most unfavorable season for corn in many years in both the Middle West and Northwest, is emphatically proclaimed by exhibits in the North Dakota State Corn Show, which opened here this morning to continue four days. The exhibits excel in quality the entries in the first state-wide corn exposition held last year, according to A. F. Bradley, secretary of the show, who added that exhibits proved that corn does well in every part of North Dakota.

When the doors of the show opened this morning, exhibits which were sent by mail and express were still being opened, and there was assurance that the majority of the counties in the state would be represented in the display.

Seventy-one counties were out to take from Sargent county the title of champion corn growing county of the state, a title won last year when the exhibitors from that county scored the most points and won the L. B. Hanna sweepstakes cup. Grant, Adams and Morton were among the counties with a large number of entries and evident designs on the state corn title, while Sargent county evidently was intent upon retaining the title, a large number of exhibits being entered from that county.

All Sections Represented
The northern part of the state, toward the Canadian border, was well represented in the displays. The exhibits included flints and dents, "Merced," "Dakota White," "Minnesota No. 13," "Minnesota No. 23," Falconer corn, "Rustler" and "Pioneer" corn.

Before the show opened exhibits had been placed on display from the following counties: Adams, Grant, Burleigh, Stark, Kidder, Morton, Cass, LaMoure, Sheridan, Logan, Pierce, Mountrail, Emmons, Barnes, Sioux, Mercer, Golden Valley, Ward and Richland.

Among the exhibits are several freak ears of corn and a petrified ear displayed by Major Mossman of the Standing Rock Indian agency. In addition to the prize money, exceeding $500, offered regular for corn prize winners, prizes are offered for the best alfalfa seed, yellow blossom sweet clover, white blossom sweet clover, best bushel of corn silage, best picture of a North Dakota corn field, best bundle of 12 stalks of unhusked corn, largest ear of corn, most unusual shaped ear of corn.

All corn must be entered in the grower's name. The corn show room, in the Annex Hotel building on East Broadway, will be open morning, afternoon and evening, today, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Special Prizes
Special prizes awarded follow:
For the County making the highest score, the Grand Prize Winner will be awarded for one year the HANNA STATE CHAMPIONSHIP CUP. This cup must be won two years in succession to become permanent. Sargent County won this cup in 1923.

The provident Life Insurance Company, Bismarck, offers a silver cup to the highest individual prize winner at the North Dakota State Corn Show. This cup must be won two years in succession to become permanent.

The First National Bank, Bismarck, offers a silver cup to the highest individual prize winner of Burleigh County. This cup must be won two years in succession to become permanent.

OTHER GRAINS GAIN

Remarkable Advance in Prices During the Last Week Is Registered

Minneapolis, Nov. 11.—Wheat prices shot upward again Monday on American markets, advancing from 1 to 1 1/2 cents to levels 15 cents higher than those of the day before. The advance was just under the 1921 peak figures established a month ago. Other grains registered gains of from 1 to 1 1/2 cents, while cash wheat in Minneapolis advanced 5 1/2 cents mark for the first time in several weeks.

Heavy buying of stocks in New York forced a storm of issues to new high records for the year and resulted in a general upward swing, led by rail and oil stocks. Stock sales on the New York exchange exceeded one million shares in the first two hours of Monday's trading.

December wheat futures in Minneapolis sold freely at $1.52 1/2, a gain of 3/4 cent over Saturday's close of $1.51 3/4. May wheat was quoted at $1.57 1/2, an advance of 1/2 cent against the Saturday figure of $1.57. Steady buying in large volume for export, backed by further reductions in Argentina and Australia wheat crop forecasts, were the chief bullish factors in the market.

Chicago wheat futures sold at $1.54 1/2 for December, $1.50 for May and $1.40 for July, increases averaging 3/4 cent over the Saturday closes of $1.51 1/2, $1.50 1/2 and $1.47 1/2. Corn futures jumped an average of 2 1/2 in Chicago, selling at $1.12 1/2 for December, $1.16 1/2 for May and $1.17 1/2 for July.

Rye prices climbed about 2 cents, the December future selling at $1.27 1/2, in Minneapolis, as against $1.25 1/2 Saturday, and the May delivery advanced from $1.28 1/2 to $1.30. Chicago rye registered parallel gains, December futures moving at $1.37 1/2 and May at $1.40 1/2. Oats prices gained an average of 1 cent, December futures selling at 48 1/2 cents and May at 50 1/2 cents in Minneapolis, while oats were quoted in Chicago at 51 cents for December delivery, 58 for May and 56 for July.

Flax prices registered the largest advances in the list on the Minneapolis market, December flax mounting from Saturday's close of $2.74 to $2.82 1/2, while May flax also advanced 2 cents to $2.66. Minneapolis flax rose 1 to 2 cents, to 86 1/2 for December and 91 cents for May. Several consignments of cash wheat sold in Minneapolis at from $1.70 to $1.75, maintaining the premium over the December future.

The Larger Service

The larger service is not typified by the storekeeper who delivered a spool of cotton in a five-ton truck manned by three men.

Nor is it typified by the man who attempts to unload the contents of a freight car with a market basket.

The larger service consists of giving the people what they want, when they want it, at a minimum cost of time, labor and money. This, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) does.

Cost and waste are closely related. Cost is controlled and waste is eliminated by the same factors—capable management and intensive organization.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has lowered consistently its manufacturing costs by creating new and useful products from that residue of petroleum which had been acknowledged as waste.

Each new product created has been made to bear its true proportion of the manufacturing costs of all products taken from the single base—crude petroleum.

The benefits accruing from this economy have been passed to the consumer in lower prices and improved service.

Because the business of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is balanced to a fine point there is no slack season. A shut-down in its manufacturing plants seldom occurs. There is no waste effort or unnecessary overhead expense to be absorbed. Products flow through the manufacturing channels of this Company uninterruptedly and are sold at natural—not artificially maintained—prices.

Such a condition in the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is not a circumstance, it is a policy—for experience has demonstrated that manufacturing cost, selling price and quantity production are inseparable.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is inspired by a determination to render the most comprehensive service—the larger service. This means a tremendous turn-over, with a small profit per unit of sale.

It is on this foundation that the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has become one of the truly great institutions of America—a constructive force for good—and an influencing factor in solving problems closely related to the social and economic welfare of the thirty millions of people in the Middle West.

ARMISTICE DAY PROGRAM IS PRESENTED

Rotarians Hear Speakers on Meaning of the Holiday Celebrated

The guests at Rotary Luncheon this noon included Mrs. Frank Barnes, Mrs. Scheffer, Henry Halverson, Lynn Cowell, Secretary of the Greater North Dakota Association, L. R. Baird, Rotarian of Dickinson, Rev. Harry Postlethwaite, and L. C. Sorlien of Bismarck, and L. P. Warren, Capt. Blooming, and Col. George Rues of the American Legion.

"Bill" Buddiz spoke on "The Status of Educators." He stated that educators had two duties: to impart knowledge and to plant ideals and principles.

The quartette, composed of Miss Barnes and Scheffer and Henry Halverson appropriate to Armistice Day, Captain Brocopp spoke on his impressions of the meaning of Armistice Day and closed with an appeal to the citizens to back Company "A" and the preparedness for which it stands.

Col. George Rues also spoke on Armistice Day. His outstanding impression of that great day six years ago centered in the war worn French troops in their horizon blue, with their real knowledge of what the end of the war really meant. He touched briefly and impressively of several problems that come from war and which we must still grapple with. He spoke of preparedness and summed up several of the objects of the American Legion program. He stated that the proposed Universal Draft Bill if passed would be the greatest guarantee of peace that this country could possess and concluded with request that we pay the respect to the American flag which we owe to it as the spirit of the American people.

George Will concluded the program with a short talk definitely establishing North Dakota's place in the "Carn Belt" and urging Rotarians and all business men to attend the corn show and the attendant speeches.

ENVOY URGES U.S. BUILDING IN COPENHAGEN

Copenhagen, Nov. 12.—Erection of an "American House" in Copenhagen, where American business interests might be grouped together in one building, similar to the Busch Building in London, was advocated by the American Ambassador, Dr. John D. Prince, in a recent address before the American Club here.

Dr. Prince said that both he and Consul-General Maclean Letcher favored the idea, and that the latter was ready to support it to the extent of moving the consular offices to such a building, and to the representative of American business interests. In his speech Dr. Prince emphasized the growing importance of Copenhagen with its excellent Free Port and commanding geographical position as an emporium for American trade on the Baltic, facts he said, that made an American House in Copenhagen the more desirable.

It is understood that a Danish architect has worked out a detailed plan for such a building, and that the plan will shortly be put before the American Colony in Copenhagen by a Danish business man with large American interests.

TWO COUNTS ARE DISMISSED

Judge Submits Hill Case To The Jury

Baltimore, Nov. 12.—Charging the jury in the trial of Ren. John Philip Hill, in the United States District Court, for alleged violation of the Volstead act, Judge Morris A. Soper directed the jury to ignore the definition of intoxication as set forth by Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, pure food expert, and Dr. Howard A. Kelly, of Baltimore.

These witnesses testified yesterday that cider with 2.7 percent alcohol and wine with 11.4 percent alcohol are intoxicating.

The judge also told the jury to find Col. Hill not guilty on the fifth and sixth counts of the indictment which charged him with maintaining a common nuisance at his home.

First Aid Instruction Grows Rapidly, 13,865 Winning Certificates

Well in the forefront of the increasing nationwide movement to guard the worker from accident and injury is the Red Cross First Aid Service which for 21 years has been a stalwart missionary carrying the light of safety and preventive measures. Industrial America evidences its recognition of First Aid instruction and shows its trust in it by stimulating the workers' interest through organizing First Aid teams and giving trophies for their competitions.

Telephone, gas and electric companies, and public service corporations generally, endorse First Aid and promote instruction with enthusiasm, for the employees who absorb attributes of care and attention thereby promote efficiency as well as reduce time losses. In the industrial field the opportunities are extensive and they present a vista of a time when every mine, factory, mill, foundry and railroad center will have its First Aid contingent ready on a moment's notice to handle any situation due to an untoward distraction of industry.

The new Red Cross instruction (the No. 1) carried on a campaign of 911 meetings aggregating 147,499 persons including 12,124 railroad employees, 70,487 students, 13,011 industrial workers and 2,918 members of clubs. More than 17,000 firemen, policemen, Girl and Boy Scouts, and members of welfare organizations also attended meetings wherever the car halted.

These figures might justly be twice multiplied for the contests conducted by corporations for their employees of many thousands, and roared spectators to quite as great enthusiasm as popular athletic competitions. The year's reports are

RUTH ST. DENIS DANCES LATEST HITS IN SHOW

Many New Creations To Be Presented by Her in Bismarck, November 22

Ruth St. Denis, as season after season, New York and the rest of the country sees her creation of beauty, has gained unquestioned, the name of being the greatest dancer America has produced. And from the standpoint of creativeness is unsurpassed by any dancer in the world. Where the premier danseuses of European schools have made brilliant careers by marvelous technique in a style already created, Ruth St. Denis has created a whole new school and style of dance. And not content with one style only, each season marks new trails blazed by this great pioneer. She appears here November 22.

Her first great success was the presenting of the Oriental religious dance to European and American audiences, this long before the Russian ballet had dealt with an Oriental theme. Her early Hindu dances were rapidly followed by an elaborate Egyptian production at the Amsterdam Theatre, New York, this being the first time any dancer had revived the ancient Egyptian art as a basis for a new style of dance. Now we have myriads of "Egyptian Dancers" with their angular postures, all following in the footsteps of Ruth St. Denis. A few years later she produced a Japanese dance play, for a season at the Fulton Theatre, which was acclaimed by the Japan Society of America as the first time that the true feeling of Japanese art and dancing had been interpreted by an Occidental.

Soon her attention travelled to another phase of the dance, the more scholarly translation of the music of the great classic composers into mathematically exact movements, while also rendering visible the emotional coloring of the music. This she called Music Visualization and her first great experiment was the visualization of Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony" by using an organization of dancers which she called her "Synchoric Orchestra" one dance for every instrument in the symphony orchestra. Bach inventions and fugues danced by a group for each part or voice, and so on.

Now with all dancers of the country appropriating her phrase "Music Visualization" she has once more jumped ahead and is presenting music at all and the critics of New York and Boston are sitting up writing columns to say that she has made a real contribution to the art of the dance. Next year when the imitative dancers are concerning themselves with "the Dance as an Independent Art," Ruth St. Denis will be a jump ahead giving us something newer still.

AFTER YEARS SILENCE GIRY TELLS STORY THAT MAY CONVICT FATHER IN DEATH OF HER MOTHER

EDNA MULLINS
By NEA Service
Martinsville, Va., Nov. 12.—Edna Mullins is only 14, but life isn't any child's game to her. She is the principal witness for the state in its prosecution of her father, Alfred Mullins, for the murder of her mother. She was a witness of the shooting, she says, and it was her complaint that led to the prisoner's arrest.

Mrs. Mullins was shot a year ago, the husband saying it occurred by accident as she gave him the gun with which to shoot a partridge. Edna says that Mullins came home intoxicated, struck his wife and then shot her. All but one of the children ran out before the actual shot was fired, but all knew of the deed. The father, says Edna, threatened to drown the children if they told, but her own haunting restlessness drove her to write to her grandfather, asking that "something be done."

Mullins sits morosely in his jail cell, insisting upon the truth of his story of accidental death.

His six children will testify against him, and upon the testimony of Edna the state is preparing to demand the death penalty.

MAYOR, LIQUOR DEPUTIES, ARE SOUGHT BY MOB

Five Men Rescued by Cincinnati Police After a Crowd Charges Them

Cincinnati, Nov. 12.—(By the A. P.)—Surrounded by a threatening crowd that gathered from miles around, Mayor A. R. Pugh of North College Hill, a suburb of Cincinnati, and four liquor court deputies were rescued last night by Cincinnati police after having been mired in the town hall of the latter city for four hours.

The demonstration started when the mayor and his deputies appeared for trial before Magistrate William on charges of assault and battery and painting firearms, preferred by Mrs. Henry Smith of Dent, Ohio, whose home they raided in search for liquor several days ago.

When the cases were called the defendants pleaded not guilty and the trials were continued until next Friday. This was the signal for an outbreak by the crowd. Someone turned out the lights and when they flashed up again Greenlee Hahn, a deputy, had a broken nose and others of the deputies exhibited evidence of rough handling.

Seeing that the danger was growing steadily the court and village officials rushed through the crowd and hustled the deputies and Mayor Pugh into the basement.

"Hang 'em, and get a rope" were cries heard on every side.

Appeals for order being of no avail, the police were called on for aid and reserves arriving, a cordon was formed around the hall and Mayor Pugh and deputies were rushed to Cincinnati.

Three automobiles said to have belonged to deputies were overturned and set on fire.

CONFESSES TO SETTING MOB ON HUSBAND

Woman in State of Collapse in Florida Jail Following Her Confession

Miami, Fla., Nov. 12.—Mrs. Hugh Hubbsch, a wife of a Coconut Grove druggist and world war veteran, has confessed, according to the sheriff's office, that she instigated the flogging of her husband November 6 by a masked band. Hubbsch, whose body is scarred with wounds of the war, was decoyed, taken into the woods by a masked band and so severely lashed with a strap that she has been in a hospital in serious condition.

In her reported confession, Mrs. Hubbsch is said to have named members of the flogging party and deputies have been instructed to make arrests. Mrs. Hubbsch is reported to have tried suicide at the county jail and is now in a state of mental collapse.

In her alleged confession, Mrs. Hubbsch said:

"I thought they would only run him out of town—I didn't know they would really beat him. I wish God would kill me for what I did."

Six years ago Hubbsch, who claims kinship to Victor Hugo, lay in a hospital overseas, his body riddled by German shrapnel. One of many heroes of the famous "Fighting Sixty-Ninth," New York, he paid dearly for distinguishing himself when he had won before Chateau Thierry and today is again on a bed of pain as his recovery is in doubt.

Mrs. Hubbsch failed to make clear what prompted a desire to discipline her husband but declares there had been talk of a divorce because of unhappy home life.

GOOD PROFIT ON CATTLE

Farming Company Makes $800 on 35 Head

Grand Forks, N. D., Nov. 12.—The Townsite Farming company of 3500 ster shows a gross profit of $800, made on 35 head of steers, which were bought in April and sold to pasture until the last part of October, according to William R. Page, agricultural agent for the Great Northern railroad.

On April 9 the company bought 35 head of Aberdeen Angus steers weighing an average of 635 pounds on the Winnipeg market. The animals cost $6.65 per hundred pounds, laid down at Jankster, October 30, they were sold on the St. Paul market at $7 per hundred.

At this time the average weight was 1,001 pounds a head an average gain of 366 pounds for the period of 261 days or an average daily gain of 1.8 pounds.

These steers with 10 head of other cattle were pastured on 120 acres of mixed sweet clover, rye and wild grass. The cattle were given no grain feed and the owners figure a gross profit of $800 from which interest and pasture charges must be deducted.

Mr. Page points out that the steer was secured only this spring giving the pasture a comparatively low carrying capacity and that next year the same acreage should carry double the number of cattle and yield a greater return to the acre.

RUTH ST. DENIS AND TED SHAWN WILL COME TO BISMARCK WITH BIG BALLET

RUTH ST. DENIS AND TED SHAWN IN AMERICAN DANCE DRAMA

Ten years ago Ruth St. Denis and Ted Shawn founded a school of dancing named for their mingled names "Denishawn." At that time there was no great school of the dance in America that was not either taught by a foreigner, or else whose material was not based upon and limited by foreign technique. Out of the material trained in this school, Miss St. Denis and Mr. Shawn formed a company of dancers called the Denishawn Dancers who have been touring this country nine years. This is without doubt the first real "American" ballet, inasmuch as the founders and leaders Ruth St. Denis and Ted Shawn are not only American born, but have evolved a school of dance which is American and not European in any sense. Every dancer in the company is American born. And this company has pioneered in dealing with subjects the inspiration for which was found upon this continent. Ted Shawn has produced an Atter ballet "Xochitl" with music by Homer Grunn, an American, and a Hopi Indian ballet "Feather of the Dawn" with music composed for him by Charles Wakefield Cadman. This season he is dancing another American Indian theme "Invocation to the Thunderbird" with music by another famous American, John Philip Sousa. In addition to this he is producing four numbers of Eastwood Lane's composition all on American themes. The most interesting of which is a revival of the old New England country dances, the kind which were accompanied by an old fiddler who called out the figures. And one of the big productions which the Denishawn Dancers are working on for the future is a great production to fill an entire evening based on Walt Whitman's "Leaves of Grass."

These Denishawn Dancers are really an American institution and will before many years make a world tour to show the "superior" European capitals that something good can come out of Nazareth. They will appear at the Bismarck Auditorium November 22.

TREASURES OF ANTIQUITY ARE NOW OBTAINED

Discoveries Beyond All Expectations, Report of the Field Museum

Chicago, Nov. 12.—The treasures of antiquity beyond all expectations have been discovered at Kish by the Field Museum-Oxford University Mesopotamian expedition, according to a letter just received by P. C. Davies, director of the museum from Professor S. Langdon, Assyriologist, head of the expedition.

Kish, it is believed by scientists, is the seat of the world's earliest civilization. The prizes the expedition already have uncovered are all from 5,000 to 7,000 years old.

They include jewel of exquisite ancient workmanship finely engraved cylinder seals of mysterious historical value, silver and gold jewelry, work of silver and lapis lazuli. Most of these articles have been found in a necropolis on the eastern side of the buried city. They comprise personal property placed in the tombs and graves of the dead.

The various stages of craftsmanship in earlier designs, apparently older than the more artistic ones of 3,000 B. C., disclose that the Sumerians, a non-Semitic race, in addition to ornamenting the art of writing, also developed metallurgy, glazing, engraving, glass making, brick making and various other arts that have survived to modern times.

Seven thousand years ago hairpins were used. Most of them contain carved harpins, with ornamental beads of precious stones and worked metal. A gorgeous white pin setting that resembled a pearl dissolved before the eye of the excavators the moment the air came in contact with it. Despite the large variety of rare jewelry excavated no gold has yet been found. Silver appears to have been the most precious metal of the day.

GREATEST OF STOCK SHOWS TO OPEN SOON

Remarkable Exhibit to be Thrown Open to Public in Chicago

Chicago, Nov. 12.—President Coolidge when he comes to the twenty-fifth annual international livestock exposition to be held here on November 22 to December 6 will see the greatest assemblage of domestic livestock ever brought together. H. Heide, secretary-manager, announced yesterday. A new record entry list of 5,405 animals in individual cattle, draft horse, sheep and swine classes was recorded when the entry books closed.

The president may spend one or two days here but the date of his visit has not been definitely fixed. The national executive told Mr. Heide on Saturday. Colonel John Coolidge has been invited to accompany his son and the exposition management is making special arrangements for the occasion when the president as well as the vice-president elect, Charles G. Dawes of Chicago will both be within the precincts of the same city for the first time since their sweeping election last Tuesday.

The president assured Mr. Heide that he would certainly be here for one or two days depending on his other numerous engagements and the matters calling for his attention.

Entries for the silver jubilee exposition show the individual cattle class leads with nearly 2,100 entries with swine second, sheep third and horses fourth. The largest increases were in the swine and sheep department.

Thirty different breeds of livestock as well as various grades and cross-breeds will be represented and specimens coming from nearly every state and Canadian province, many originally imported from Scotland, England, Belgium, France, New Zealand, and Australia. Seven foreign judges from three continents will assist in making the awards which will include official medals issued by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Entries have not closed for the carload classes and the horse show and these departments are not included in figures given above. Advance indications are that the record of 5,049 samples entered in the International Hay and Grain show last year will be exceeded this year.

Legion Picture Draws Crowd

Approximately 800 people last night witnessed the showing of "The Lost Battalion" at the Auditorium by the American Legion and about 500 saw the picture the first night. The local Legion Post will clear about $250 on the picture.

The idea of the presentation of the picture is not so much to make money, according to Legion officials, as it is to impress upon all the heroism and lessons of the World War. The picture has been highly praised from this standpoint by former Secretary of War Newton D. Baker and others. The money cleared from such pictures goes to aid ex-service men in various ways. An eight-piece orchestra furnished music.

CAMPAIGN FOR GREATER N. D. FUND SUCCESS

Secretary, in Bismarck, Says That Good Progress Is Being Made

The campaign for funds being made by the Great Northern Dakota Association, formulating a national advertising campaign for the state, is gathering strength, according to Lynn Cowell, secretary, in Bismarck.

And in to arrange for campaigns here. The association officers hope to be able to start the campaign of advertising in national publications January 1, February and March, the three best months in which to advertise for immigrants.

"We have already received some publicity," said Cowell, "and as a result I am getting from one to four letters a day asking for authentic information about North Dakota."

The campaign is being raised, he said, on the basis of $1 a family, which would make Burleigh county's quota at $2,000. In the country districts $1 a family is asked from wage earners and larger amounts from business firms.

The railroad and cooperating and contributing unions, Mr. Cowell said.

Among the advertising features under way, he said, is a little ship with authentic information about the state on one side and about a particular county on the other. The ships are to be carried in general office mail at the Northern Pacific, Great Northern and Burlington railroads and also in local business men in out of state mail.

"We are getting fine cooperation," Mr. Cowell said. "Campaigns were started in 11 counties in October 29, designated first of North Dakota Day at the Northern Pacific, and are successful. This is a big thing and the results are big."

The board of the mill, George W. Piles Can Be Cured Without Surgery

An instructive book has been published by Dr. A. S. McCleary, the noted rectal specialist of Kansas City. This book tells how sufferers from Piles can be quickly and easily cured without the use of knife, scalpel, "hot" iron, electricity or any other cutting or burning method, without confinement to bed and no hospital bills to pay. MAYOR, LIQUOR DEPUTIES, ARE SOUGHT BY MOB

Five Men Rescued by Cincinnati Police After a Crowd Charges Them

Cincinnati, Nov. 12.—(By the A. P.)—Surrounded by a threatening crowd that gathered from miles around, Mayor A. R. Pugh of North College Hill, a suburb of Cincinnati, and four liquor court deputies were rescued last night by Cincinnati police after having been marooned in the town hall of the latter city for four hours.

The demonstration started when the mayor and his deputies appeared for trial before Magistrate Williams on charges of assault and battery and painting firearms, preferred by Mrs. Henry Smith of Dent, Ohio, whose home they raided in search for liquor several days ago.

When the cases were called the defendants pleaded not guilty and the trials were continued until next Friday. This was the signal for an outbreak by the crowd. Someone turned out the lights and when they flashed up again Greenlee Hahn, a deputy, had a broken nose and others of the deputies exhibited evidence of rough handling.

Saying that the danger was growing steadily the court and village officials rushed through the crowd and hustled the deputies and Mayor Pugh into the basement.

"Hang 'em," and "get a rope" were cries heard on every side.

Appeals for order being of no avail, the police were called on for aid and reserves arriving, a cordon was formed around the hall and Mayor Pugh and deputies were rushed to Cincinnati.

Three automobiles said to have belonged to deputies were overturned and set on fire.

RUTH ST. DENIS AND TED SHAWN WILL COME TO BISMARCK WITH BIG BALLET

RUTH ST. DENIS AND TED SHAWN IN ALGERIAN DANCE DRAMA

Ten years ago Ruth St. Denis and Ted Shawn founded a school of dancing named from their mingled names "Denishawn." At that time there was no great school of the dance in America that was not either taught by a foreigner, or else whose material was not based upon and limited by foreign technique. One of the material trained in this school, Miss St. Denis and Mr. Shawn formed a company of dancers called the Denishawn Dancers who have been touring this country nine years. This is without doubt the first real "American" ballet, inasmuch as the founders and leaders Ruth St. Denis and Ted Shawn are not only American born, but have evolved a school of dance which is American and not European in any sense. Every dancer in the company is American born. And this company has pioneered in dealing with subjects the inspiration for which was found upon this continent. Ted Shawn has produced an Aztec ballet "Xochitl" with music by Homer Grunn, an American, and a Hopi Indian ballet

"Feather of the Dawn" with music composed for him by Charles Wakefield Cadman. This season he is dancing another American Indian theme "Invocation to the Thunderbird" with music by another famous American, John Philip Sousa. In addition to this he is producing four numbers of Eastwood Lane's composition all on American themes, the most interesting of which is a revival of the old New England Country Dances, the kind which were accompanied by an old fiddler who called out the figures. And one of the big conceptions which the Denishawn Dancers are working on for the future is a great production to fill an entire evening based on Walt Whitman's "Leaves of Grass."

These Denishawn Dancers are really an American institution and will before many years make a world tour to show the superlative European capitals that something good can come out of Nazareth. They will appear at the Bismarck Auditorium November 22.

Canadian Masons in N. D.

Grand Forks, N. D., Nov. 12.—The Royal Arch degree, the second section in full form, was conferred on a class by the Corinthian chapter of Royal Arch Masons Monday night as a feature of the entertainment for a group of 66 visiting chapter Masons and officers from Winnipeg.

Several members of the grand chapter of North Dakota were also in Grand Forks for the ceremony.

The visitors arrived at noon Monday and were taken to the Masonic temple for luncheon, presided over by Finley D. Cameron of Grand Forks. Following the luncheon many of the Winnipeg Masons inspected the temple. It is proposed that a new Masonic temple be built at Winnipeg and the guests were especially interested in the building at Grand Forks.

TREASURES OF ANTIQUITY ARE NOW OBTAINED

Discoveries Beyond All Expectations, Report of the Field Museum

Chicago, Nov. 12.—The treasures of antiquity beyond all expectations have been discovered at Kish by the Field Museum-Oxford University Mesopotamian expedition, according to a letter just received by P. C. Davies, director of the museum from Professor S. Langdon, Assyriologist, head of the expedition.

Kish, it is believed by scientists, is the seat of the world's earliest civilization. The prizes the expedition already have uncovered are all from 5,000 to 7,000 years old.

They include jewels of exquisite ancient workmanship, finely engraved cylinder seals of inestimable historic value, glazed pottery and inlay work of silver and lapis lazuli. Most of these articles have been found in a necropolis on the eastern side of the buried city. They comprise personal property placed in the tombs and graves of the dead.

The various stages of craftsmanship in cruder designs, apparently older than the more artistic ones of 3,000 B. C., disclose that the Sumerians, a non-Semitic race, in addition to originating the art of writing, also developed metallurgy, glazing, engraving, glass making, brick making and various other arts that have survived to modern times.

Seven thousand years ago hairpins were used. Most of the tombs contain hairpins with ornamental heads on precious stones and worked metal. A gorgeous white pin setting that resembled a bird's head, discovered before the eye of the excavators the moment the air came in contact with it. Despite the large variety of rare jewelry excavated no gold has yet been found. Silver appears to have been the most precious metal of the day.

GREATEST OF STOCK SHOWS TO OPEN SOON

Remarkable Exhibit to be Thrown Open to Public in Chicago

Chicago, Nov. 12.—President Coolidge when he comes to the twenty-fifth annual international livestock exposition to be held here on November 29 to December 6 will see the greatest assemblage of domestic livestock ever brought together. R. H. Heide, secretary-manager, announced yesterday. A new record entry list of 5,105 animals in individual cattle, draft horse, sheep and swine classes was recorded when the entry books closed.

The president may spend one or two days here but the date of his visit has not been definitely fixed, the national executive told Mr. Heide on Saturday. Colonel John Coolidge has been invited to accompany his son and the exposition management is making special arrangements for the occasion when the president as well as the vice-president, Charles G. Dawes of Chicago will both be within the precincts of the same city for the first time since their sweeping election last Tuesday.

The president assured Mr. Heide that he would certainly be here for one or two days depending on his official scoring the highest in Townships 13R and 13S, Ranges 70 and 71, or any Township in Ranges 72 and 73. This cup must be won two years in succession to become permanent.

Bonham Bros., Bismarck, offer a $2000 watch and chain to the individual scoring the highest in the territory comprising Morton, Burleigh and Emmons counties.

F. A. Knowles, Bismarck, offers a silver cup to the exhibitor scoring highest in the territory comprising Morton, Burleigh and Emmons counties.

JOINT-EASE For Stiff Joints

Pharmacists say that when all other so-called remedies fail Joint-Ease will succeed. It's for joint ailments only—that is why you are advised to use it for sore, painful, inflamed, rheumatic joints.

Joint-Ease limbers up the joints—Joint-Ease is not at all much to make money, according to Legion officials, as it is to impress upon all the heroism and lessons of the World War. The picture has been highly praised from this standpoint by former Secretary of War Newton D. Baker and others. The money cleared from such pictures goes to aid ex-service men in various ways. WINDOW BREAKS BRICK London, Nov. 12.—Members of "Left" Hammer's notorious gang of jewel thieves drove up before the Peterson jewelry store and hurled a brick at the show window. The window withstood the shock and the brick fell shattered to the sidewalk. When they made ready to hurl a second missile, a squad of police surrounded them with drawn guns.

BOARD TO ACT IN UNISON

No Decision Reached By Members of Mill Board

Grand Forks, N. D., Nov. 12.—No statement as to the action of the board of managers of the state mill and elevator relative to resignation because of the election of A. G. Sorlie as governor will be made until after the matter is discussed at a meeting of the board, according to W. W. Ross, chairman of the board. This attitude was also expressed by the Scruggs of Devils Lake and George Wilder of Grand Forks, also members of the board. The general opinion is that a decision should be reached at a meeting of the board and either all the members remain on the board or resign.

Mr. Sorlie had already sent in his resignation to the industrial commission according to word received from Bismarck, but he has agreed to hold it up pending further consideration of the matter by the board as a whole.

Under the law creating the board of managers, which was passed at the 1923 session of the state legislature vacancies are to be filled by the state industrial commission. This commission after the first of the year will consist of A. G. Sorlie, George Shafer, and J. A. Kitchen, Mr. Sorlie having the power to veto the acts of the two independent members.

The general idea around Bismarck seems to be that if the present board members resign the majority members of the industrial commission are not likely to place obstacles in the way of any appointments which Mr. Sorlie may desire to make, as long as such appointments are at all reasonable.

E. M. Heege of Hatten, a fourth member of the board has given out a statement at Fargo indicating his belief that the board members should resign. Nick Nelson of Emmerdale, the fifth member of the board could not be located.

WHAT IS A GLAND HORMONE?

Startling investigations and experiments recently made by scientists of international reputation have proved that the vital glands play a most important part in keeping us strong and healthy. The secret seems to lie in the mysterious substances called "Hormones," meaning "messengers." These ductless glands, vital to life itself, pour into the blood these invisible substances, which are necessary for an active and healthy existence.

Glandogen, the new scientific gland tonic, prepared in tablet form provides a simple method of taking glandular treatment. Glandogen, for men and women, is obtainable at Lenhart's Drug Co.—Adv.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

THE SECOND CORN SHOW

Bismarck today opens the doors of the Second Annual North Dakota Corn Show. The inauguration of an annual contest among corn growers of the state and an exposition of the success in corn-raising in North Dakota was heralded far and wide last year as one of the most important steps in presenting the true facts about North Dakota to her own people and to people of other states.

As a result of the Corn Show last year thousands of people living outside North Dakota learned to their surprise that North Dakota can raise as good corn as other states, and that the Corn Belt no longer is confined to a few middle-western states.

This year, as a result of local contests and more careful selection, an unusually fine exposition of corn growing is presented. Every person who is able to visit the show should do so, and the information gained should be spread far and wide as possible.

Wheat is a fine cash crop, and if North Dakota were able to harvest a good wheat crop each year, it is doubtful if there would be any urge to diversified farming or to corn raising. But the wheat lands of North Dakota eventually will repeat the tale of wheat lands of other sections of the country, and will give way to other products.

Corn raising has made a tremendous increase in the state. The year 1921, declared the most unfavorable corn year throughout the Middle West and Northwest, nevertheless has seen as fine corn produced in North Dakota as can be produced.

Bismarck invites visitors to the Corn Show, and hopes that its continuation may be of some service in spreading correct information concerning North Dakota.

GIANT BUILDING

The tallest building in the world is being erected—not in New York, but in Rome, Italy. It will rise 408 feet higher than the Woolworth Building.

The giant's structure will contain 4500 rooms, 100 halls, theatres, gymnasium, swimming pools, etc. It will be used mainly for sporting events and training athletes. Its name will be the Mole Lictoria. Building a Tower of Babel in the interests of sports rather than science is quite appropriate in our generation. However, for one Mole Lictoria we have thousands of laboratories and universities.

PASSPORTS

American Bankers' Association urges Uncle Sam to negotiate with foreign governments to eliminate the passport system. Then you could travel freely from one country to another.

No chance. The passport in Europe is more a police than a tourist device. We might profit by the German system, making every new arrival in a town report to police headquarters within 24 hours to get his "papers" o. k'd. Fugitives would be more readily traced, even in a large country.

APE-MAN

An ape-man saw a forest fire started by lightning. He picked up a piece of wood, blazing at one end, and ran into the darkness with it. That was man's first form of artificial illumination.

Recently Gene Sarazen played golf at night, the course illuminated by an electric searchlight of 400 million candle-power. Later this powerful light will seem, to future men, as primitive as the ape-man's blazing fagot seems to us today. We are barbarians, by future standards.

CAUSE OF WAR

Six large women's organizations will meet in Washington, D. C., in January "to determine the cause and cure of war."

The cause of war (barring rebellions for freedom) is usually profit.

The cure for such wars is to take away the profit. Drafting factories and dollars, the same as conscripting human bodies, would work wonders.

STOLEN AUTOS

Five autos, stolen in New York, were traced to Holland where they had been sold. This leads to arrest of three "leaders of an international auto-stealing ring"—something new in crime, exports and big enterprises.

It emphasizes that the theft of autos is becoming a highly organized criminal industry. One way to check it is to make all car drivers carry papers proving their ownership, with fingerprints and signatures attached.

LINCOLN

When Abraham Lincoln ran for president his campaign fund was only $100,000. Douglas spent half as much.

Bryan ran three times. His fund averaged $600,000 for each campaign.

McKinley held the record for a single candidate, his fund in 1896 being $15,500,000. The 1924 funds will be known later.

STRENGTH

John de Vito, 18, modern Samson, is shown in news pictures lifting one end of an auto holding 13 people. Any one can do the same thing with a lifting jack.

Brute strength doesn't count much any more, except in occupations where inventors have not yet figured out how to use machinery instead of human muscles. What counts is: How much can you lift mentally?

IDLE CARS

In hard times, railroads have as many as 450,000 freight cars in good repair and ready for use, but idle.

Lately the figure has been dropping, recently around 100,000. A business boom apparently is not far off.

A grouch a day will keep good luck at bay.

Editorial Review

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

THE EFFECT ON NORTH DAKOTA

(Grand Forks Herald)

North Dakota is bound to benefit greatly from the result of the national election. The magnificent endorsement given President Coolidge inspires confidence and creates a feeling of stability and security which must be reflected in all lines of business. It is estimated that his increase of $250,000,000 has been added to the market value of agricultural products and securities of various kinds. Not all of the advance in grain, cotton and other products was due to the election. Foreign prices advanced, in part from independent causes, but at least a part of the foreign advance is attributable to our own election. The advance in domestic prices increased more than the foreign advances alone would have warranted. The fact is that before the election, while the issue was in doubt, there was an inclination to wait and see. Buyers preferred to wait until after election when they could know whether or not there was to be a radical change in the attitude of the American government toward business and industry of all kinds. The effect was to impair the firmness of the market in some measure all along the line. With that depressing influence removed, prices bounded upward. The entire country feels more secure, more like going ahead.

North Dakota like every other section of the country, will share in that general benefit. The nation cannot be benefited without every part of the nation sharing in that benefit. North Dakota will also benefit very greatly from the fact that it shared in the endorsement of President Coolidge to the extent of delivering its electoral vote to him. On the basis of the national returns the state is no longer listed with the radicals, and the moral value of that is incalculable.

Further than this, the effects of the election on the fortunes of North Dakota depends on the attitude of our own public men. If, in spite of our vote for Coolidge, we should undertake in the enactment and administration of laws a reversion of the socialist policies of the past, or should permit the impression to get abroad that a serious effort in that direction is intended, confidence would be shaken, and the disposition would be to give up North Dakota as a hopeless state.

Every consideration of state interest demands the following of a moderate and business-like policy. To attempt anything reckless would be the height of folly. Nor is there anything to prompt any other course. The radical leaders of the past, who looked to the state from the four corners of the earth for the pickings to be found here, are gone. The state will escape their demands for money and their interference in reckless experiment. Our own people, we believe, have learned a lesson, and only a very few extremists would be willing again to load the state with the new obligations which extension of its industrial program would involve. Moreover, the complexity of the legislative task is such that nothing of the sort would be possible, even if it were proposed.

Governor-elect Sorlie has an opportunity to contribute to the benefits which the state may reap from his election. He can do this by making known, not only by his words but by his acts that he intends to pursue a policy of sound conservatism in the affairs of the state's affairs, not handling of policy is forced on him by a deadlock in the legislature or on any official board, but because of his own desire to see the state get firmly on its feet, with its debts in process of liquidation and its oppressive taxes lowered, before even an attempt is made to enlarge its industrial activities.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

THE WHITE CROW TALKS TO MRS. GOOSE

The white crow left the Twins and Mister Pim Pim sitting on the front porch of the House-That-Jack-Built and flew away to his nest on the highest mountain in the world. There he waited until he heard the whirr and the swoosh that meant the Mother Goose was coming on her homeward journey.

"Oh, I beg your pardon, Mister Goose," said Mrs. Goose, "I thought you had gone. I'll come back and sweep out your room and make your bed a little later."

"Why, I was waiting to see you just on purpose," said the white crow. "I want to sit on your broom and take a trip over the world. I fly too slowly and there is need of haste."

"How now?" cried Mother Goose. "What's the trouble?"

"Strange as it may seem, Mrs. Goose," said the crow, "I am looking for your husband. I want to find Daddy Gander and his magic dustpan."

"Why he went back to Mother Goose Land with the Twins and the House-That-Jack-Built," said the old lady.

"Now you know, Mrs. Goose," said the crow. "They did find Jack's house, 'tis true, but ever so many things have happened since then. The Twins were alone in the house when it blew away again and got stuck on this mountain. Daddy Gander had left them for a few minutes, and now he's not to be found."

among the neighbors yet. But where is the house? I don't see it."

"The brownies carried it down. There it is in the valley below," said the crow. "But there it will stay for a thousand years unless we can find Daddy Gander."

"Well, jump on my broom," said Mother Goose, when she had had a good look. "You needn't be afraid as I left my black cat at home. Have you any idea where Daddy Gander went?" she asked when they had started.

"He took the cook back to the king in Yum Yum Land," said the crow. "The cook found the bread-sponge that Mrs. John had set for her baking, and a fire in the stove and over the bread into ovens and baking it. The king, he wanted the king to have that good bread and Daddy Gander offered to take him. That's where Daddy is now. In Yum Yum Land."

"Thieving, I call it!" cried Mother Goose. "It wasn't the cook's bread to bake or Daddy Gander's to give away. What will Mrs. John say when she gets her house back and finds her bread gone?"

Suddenly the white crow said, "Listen, I hear something. We must be flying over Yum Yum Land now." "How do you know?" asked Mother Goose.

"Because I hear them going 'yummy' as they eat," said the crow. "It's dinner time."

A few months ago Jimmie came down here to visit me. He had still stayed on with Mr. Hamilton after Sam died.

He immediately felt called upon to become instantly jealous of all Prescott because I would not leave some very important business, and gave my entire attention to him. Finally he went back to Pittsburgh in a huff.

I never heard a word from him until the other day when he wrote me a long letter describing another woman in the most enthusiastic terms. Before I had finished it I found that he had gone and gotten himself in an awful mess-up by becoming intimately with a little woman, a thoroughly bad woman, who was the heroine of a first-rate story about six months ago when she managed to get her lover killed and her husband sent up for life for his murder.

Of course, Jimmie thinks the lady in question is "a poor misguided angel" instead of "a rag, a bone, and a Hank of hair" and he not only wanted but expected me to champion her when I got over to Pittsburgh. I refused, naturally, but I know I am not at all diplomatic and I expect my letter was rather drastic.

I confess I am somewhat leery of the whole thing and I have a hunch that she is going to make me trouble. I know that as now I have written and definitely refused to have anything to do with the lady I shall always be walking over a slumbering volcano if she is as dangerous as I think she is. Besides all this I shall have to work in the same plant with Jimmie, who will hate me with a deadly hatred even when he finds out, as he will be sure to do, that I have called the turn on the character of his infamously.

amorous. He probably will hate me worse than then before, not only for doubting his judgment in the first place but also for finding out that mine was better.

Mr. Prescott is coming back here tomorrow and then I probably will know exactly how our departure will be arranged. Doubtless I shall go to Pittsburgh as soon as he arrives here so that I can start in there immediately.

I will write you again as soon as I have seen Leslie. Do you think I did right in refusing to meet Jimmie's lady-love? I wish there were some way of my knowing him the true character of the girl. Even though the judge from the bench reprimanded her as was told in the newspapers at the time of the trial, for her heartless conduct and betrayal of both her lover and her husband, Jimmie seems still to believe in her. My only hope is that he will find her out before he marries her.

Give my regards to that handsome husband of yours. Isn't he too good-looking to be allowed to go about without a keeper in the wilds of Hollywood?

I know, dear, that you are the sweetest woman in all that cesspool of scandal, but I have never heard of sweetness being given its full degree of reward.

Here's hoping you get yours. Don't take my silly joke seriously and remember I love you. SALLY.

EVERETT TRUE

BY CONDO

ALWAYS ROOM AT THE TOP

By Albert Apple

Young men who are wondering what line of work to follow will be interested in this. So will others who, already started, find the road to success rough and steep.

Each year American industry needs 40,000 new mining, electrical, hydraulic and other engineers. Yet our engineering colleges are graduating only 9000 a year. So claims the National Industrial Conference Board.

Colonel Barbour, editor of Mining and Metallurgy, challenges the board's claim. He says: "Nothing could be more absurd. Moreover, such a statement is tragically harmful to the current graduate and the young man who is about to decide on an engineering course of study. The engineering profession is already over-crowded."

Every business is over-crowded, for that matter, except branches of skilled labor where strict union rules hold down the number of apprentices.

As far as mere numbers are concerned, we have too many engineers, too many doctors, too many lawyers, too many newspapermen, too many architects, too many retailers—and so on, the list is virtually endless.

No matter what you decide to "take up," you find that a disheartening army of others has the same inclination. Even in aviation there is a waiting list.

No field exists in which success is easy. The fact that success is difficult proves the existence of sharp competition—over-crowding.

But over-crowding is mainly due to the presence of a multitude of incompetents. For every general, there are thousands of privates who haven't the making of a general, who couldn't make good at the top no matter how often opportunity knocked at the door.

There are many electrical engineers, but only one Edison. Many surgeons, but only a few Criles and Mayos. Many criminal lawyers, but only a few Darrows.

Plenty of room at the top, for the right man. If you are confident that you have the ability and stick-to-it-iveness to make good, young fellow, go ahead. Don't falter, don't weaken, don't be discouraged by "over-crowding."

A business, trade or profession may be over-crowded with numbers—but never with ability.

This pointed street corner in the New York of 1900 soon was to become the site of the famous sky-scraping Flatiron Building. Tall building, and speeding traffic hadn't come into style at that day.

New York, Nov. 12.—The loneliness of New York is indicated by the great number of dogs to be seen here.

Community life is almost entirely lacking in the vast city. You may live for years in one house and not know ten people in the entire block.

Thus lonely New Yorkers turn to dogs for companionship. In any park you will see scores of them on leash. Short-legged ones and long-legged ones. Short-haired ones and long-haired ones. Short-eared ones and long-eared ones. Short-tailed ones and long-tailed ones.

I always pity these dogs which never have the chance to run free. I think it is nothing short of criminal to keep a collie or a police dog cooped up in an apartment house.

However, I wonder if it isn't downright criminal to keep a child in a New York apartment.

—JAMES W. DEAN.

FABLES ON HEALTH

DON'TS FOR COLDS

In this season when the first colds of the year are likely to make their appearance, it is a pretty good idea to give the youngsters a list of "don'ts" and be sure they heed them.

The Jones' of Anytown were a bit careless, like most people, but it's a good plan to follow these rules after they get in.

Don't let them sleep with any of the other children.

Make a gargle from one-fourth teaspoonful of salt and the same amount of soda mixed in hot water.

Give them a hot footbath before they go to bed and a hot lemonade after they get in.

And, of course, a good cathartic.

Don't let them eat meats or heavy foods and, if confined to bed, a little hot broth or milk several times a day.

BOXING WILL TAKE BOOM IN CALIFORNIA

Passage of Law Permitting 12-Round Bouts to Break Gotham Monopoly

New York, Nov. 12.—New York and the metropolitan district, which has been the boxing world's mecca for several years, faces the prospect of having its monopoly broken if the new California law, permitting 12 round bouts results in the expected boom to the ring game on the coast.

California, where pugilism flourished in former days, has restricted bouts to four rounds of late, but with this limit extended to 12 rounds, California is expected to provide attractions after the first of the year.

Mitt Artists Head West
Already a number of eastern boxers have started westward on "prospecting" expeditions, influenced also by a temporary period of depression here.

Benny Leonard, the world's lightweight titleholder, disclosed today that he had begun negotiations with Los Angeles promoters for a 12 round title bout there in February against an opponent yet to be selected. Other champions may follow suit, including Mike McGuire, the light heavyweight champion, and Abe Goldstein, bantamweight titleholder.

Tex Rickard and other metropolitan promoters, however, do not view with alarm the prospects of a new era in boxing in California, where promoters are reported to be planning erection of arenas to boom the sport.

Boon Should Uncover Talent
Rickard believes that some of the present day unsatisfactory boxing conditions have been due to the concentration of virtually all major activities here, and that with the opening of a new field, new talent will appear, fresh interest develop and the game benefit as a whole.

Several decades ago boxing was at its height in California, witnessing many notable fights and producing many prominent fighters. James J. Corbett, former heavyweight champion, born in San Francisco, started his ring career there, as did Jim Jeffries. Jeffries won the championship from Fitzsimmons at San Francisco in 1902.

TRACK STARS DO NOT SHINE ON GRIDIRON

New York, Nov. 12.—The attempt of football coaches to convert track men to the gridiron in an effort to make use of their speed has met with only fair success.

Chet Bowman of Syracuse, who steps the 440 mighty fast, is one of the few track men to gain fame on the gridiron, and Bowman is far from being a great player.

In football circles Bowman is known as a side-line runner. He usually runs wide with the hope of getting clear of the opposition. When he feels that there isn't much of a chance to get away he runs out of bounds, rather than cutting in and trying to pick his way through a broken field.

Possibly in so doing Bowman is setting under instructions but the practice doesn't impress rival players as to his greatness as a grid performer. Of course, when Bowman gets away there is no catching him.

Other speed merchants of the track who have been pressed into gridiron service this fall are Brookins of Iowa, Kinsey of Illinois, as well as several others not so noted.

YOST PRAISES COACH LITTLE

For 23 years Coach Fielding Yost has been the real power in Michigan football. It has been a huge task to keep Michigan in the front rank all that time.

Not until he unearthed George Little did Yost feel he had an assistant capable of taking over his duties. He regards him highly.

As director of all athletics at Michigan, Yost has his hands full. It is believed he will shortly retire as active head of football and that he will turn the job over to Little.

Shortstops Are Badly Needed By Five Clubs

New York, Nov. 12.—A good shortstop is the crying need of a number of American League clubs.

Since weakness at short is a serious fault, clubs so handicapped are certain to make every effort to strengthen before the opening of next season.

The Chicago White Sox are the worst off, with the Boston Red Sox a close second, since Dudley Lee is still an uncertainty.

The New York Yankees must find a successor to Everett Scott, who showed by his play last season that he is slowing up badly.

Ty Cobb has a problem at Detroit since Rigney is troubled with a back ailment that seriously affects his play.

Chick Galloway of the Philadelphia Athletics, a shining star two years ago, slumped badly in his all-round play last season.

Washington, with Peckinpah; Cleveland, with Joe Sewell, and St. Louis, with Gerber, are the only clubs well fortified at the important position.

Billy Evans Says

Are football coaches making the most of the forward pass?

Despite the fact that the pass is being used more this year than ever before, it is still regarded by many coaches as a threat.

BERT INGWERSEN OF IOWA YOUNGEST OF BIG TEN COACH

BY ERNEST LYNN
NEA Service Writer
Champaign, Ill., Nov. 12.—It was a day in November, 1919. Illinois had just won a great victory from Ohio State, coming from behind in the closing minutes to defeat the Scarlet and Gray 9 to 7, by the narrow margin of Bobby Fletcher's toe.

And inside the Illinois dressing room a young athlete lay prone on a rubbing table, sobbing. Battered and bruised, he had been removed from the game—his last one—to make way for a fresh substitute and so had no share in the glory of the last-minute victory.

He was crying, where his teammates were jubilant. And Bob Zupke, Illinois coach, crossed the room to where he lay, put his arm around port almost entirely to straight football for three periods, finally cutting loose with open play in the final quarter.

As a rule defeat stales the average team in the face before it begins to make use of the forward pass.

I have seen Notre Dame play several games in which only a very few passes were used and then merely as a threat.

Most coaches have a fear of the pass. They regard it as too dangerous a play to be used promiscuously. Also, they prefer to win if possible without uncovering their trick stuff.

Is the forward pass as dangerous a play as a great many coaches are wont to believe?

A personal of the records fails to bear out such an opinion. With the season about half over the datum shows that only 12 touchdowns have been scored as a result of intercepted passes.

The chief fear of the coaches in using a forward pass is that some member of the opposing team will spoil their strategy by picking the ball out of the air and starting down the field.

However, most coaches have developed a defense for the pass that greatly minimizes the chance for the opposition to run it back.

As a matter of fact, with the season half over, only one game has been won as the result of an intercepted pass that resulted in a run for a touchdown.

Dope figures make the forward pass a reasonably safe play to try. Of course, there is always the chance that the pass may go astray. The possibilities of the play, however, are worth the gamble.

Undoubtedly the most interesting run of the year so far was the result of an intercepted pass.

It happened in the game between Amherst and Hamilton, with Cadigan of Amherst as the ball carrier.

Cadigan intercepted the ball as it was crossing the Amherst goal line, with a Hamilton player waiting back of the line to grab it for a much coveted touchdown.

Tucking the ball under his arm, Cadigan raced the length of the gridiron through a broken field for a touchdown.

It was a real thrill. Hamilton, badly beaten, seemed about to realize some glory by scoring a touchdown, only to have the opposition get the ball and make the score.

Players who have used both say there is no difference between wood and iron-shifted clubs.

A professional golfers' league may be formed in Florida this winter, with pros stationed at the larger resort cities making up the league.

Jimmy Bronson is one fighter manager who specializes in boxers developed in army camps.

It is debatable whether Tommy Gibbons or Harry Wills is the best defensive batter in the game today.

Gene Tunney, light heavyweight champion, thinks he can beat Tommy Gibbons at golf. Gibbons is said to be the best fighter-golfer in the land.

LABOR FAILS IN ITS DRIVE IN ELECTION

Fails to Put Opponents of Barkley Bill Out of Existence Politically

Washington, Nov. 12.—Leaders of organized labor, backed by the executive committee of the American Federation of Labor, failed in their efforts to "discipline" the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce at the polls last Tuesday.

Members of the committee were characterized as hopeless reactionaries and as representing the "vested interests." A nationwide campaign was begun by the labor leaders to unseat the "reactionaries" of the house committee.

Analysis of the election returns shows that not one of the "reactionaries" was defeated in the election. This particular result of the election, it is believed, will have an important bearing on railroad legislation.

There is little likelihood that the house committee will do anything with respect to railroad legislation in the short session. Efforts probably will be made to have it pass on the Gooding long and short clause bill, depriving the transcontinental railroads of the right to meet water competition via the Panama canal.

A drive to put through the Howell-Barkley bill is expected in the short session, because the regular republicans have a decided majority in the house in the sixty-ninth congress. It is even regarded as doubtful as to whether the bill can be put through in its present form in the short session, because any number of democrats were lined up behind the bill before the election who may not be so concerned about appearing as friends of the "labor-man."

The record of the football games to date show that the team that scores first is about a four to one favorite to win the game.

Only four pitchers in the National League, Vance, Mays, Grimes and Cooper, won 20 or more games.

The veteran Walter Johnson scored more victories than any other American League pitcher with 23.

Jesse Barnes of Boston, former star pitcher of the New York Giants, suffered the most defeats in the National League, 20.

Catcher Wally Schang says Beall, the Yankees' rookie pitcher, has a better curve ball than any right hander in the American League.

Second Baseman Marty McManus of the St. Louis Browns is said to be dissatisfied with his berth and wants to be traded.

Notre Dame has been playing the Army since 1912 and the best showing West Point ever made over that period was the scoreless tie of 1922.

Two eastern elevens will invade the coast late this season. Syracuse will play Southern California and Pennsylvania will meet Andy Smith's great California team.

Dakota Boxer Defeats Iowan
Des Moines, Iowa, Nov. 12.—By outpointing his rival in six of the eight rounds, Billy Petrolle of Fargo, N. D., gave Roscoe Hall, claimant to the Iowa lightweight title and present boxing instructor at the University of Iowa, a decisive trimming in their bout here last night.

TO RECOGNIZE LIBERAL PARTY

Plan Is Announced by Former Premier Asquith

London, Nov. 12.—Former Premier Asquith, leader of the Liberal party, told Liberal members of parliament at a luncheon that a committee of experts was working a complete reorganization of the party which needed, he said, "an overhauling from top to bottom."

Mr. Asquith said that there was no use of disguising the serious nature of the party's setback in the recent elections but declared that Liberalism was far from dead.

Mr. Lloyd George, who since his retirement from the premiership has been associated with Mr. Asquith in the party leadership, declared there was "nothing in the situation which ought to dismay us." Meantime, he added, the party had valuable work to do in the House of Commons.

In connection with yesterday's meeting it was reported in political circles in Liverpool that a seat in the House might be found for Mr. Asquith in Denbighshire. The Liberal leader failed to win a reelection in the late election. It is understood that Mr. Lloyd George has already taken action with a view toward finding Denbighshire seat for Mr. Asquith.

Monks to Observe 700th Anniversary

Oxford, Nov. 12.—The 700th anniversary of the arrival of the Franciscan Friars in Oxford will be observed by monks here. A pontifical high mass will be celebrated at the Church of St. Magnus, on the site of the ancient friary.

Because of the close connection between the Friars and the University the sugar, and City of Oxford in medieval days, the Lord Mayor and the Vice-Chancellor will take part in the celebration. Work was resumed recently in a British gold mine after a lapse of 1700 years.

NORTH DAKOTA NOT AFFECTED BY BOOZE RULE

Officials Hold That Federal Judge Soper's Ruling Makes Little Difference

STATE PROHIBITION

Absolute on the Point Involved, Says States Attorney of Cass County

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 12.—Federal Judge Morris A. Soper's decision that the Volstead act's one-half of one percent section does not apply to wine and cider made in the home for home consumption only, will not permit North Dakotans to make their own home brew because the state law prohibits possession of the home or any other place of beverages with alcoholic content of more than one-half of one percent.

This was the declaration of State's Attorney H. F. Horner of Cass county last evening. Mr. Horner maintained that whatever changes this ruling may necessitate in the enforcement proceedings of the federal government department of justice, the prohibition is absolute under the state statute and that the state law would be enforced to the letter here.

State Law is Strict
"This ruling can have no effect in North Dakota because the state law here absolutely prohibits the making or keeping of beverages with alcoholic content of more than one-half of one percent," said Mr. Horner. "Judge Soper's ruling will only apply to prosecutions in the federal courts and it would seem that as far as the federal law is concerned, this ruling makes it less strict than has been the generally accepted opinion heretofore."

"However, on the whole it will make very little difference to the citizens generally as most of the states now have prohibition statutes forbidding the keeping and use of alcoholic liquors. At the time the 18th amendment became operative 34 states had passed such laws and a number have since so that now there are only one or two states where prohibition is not in effect. Enforcement of the state laws will therefore accomplish the same results as proceedings under the federal law as heretofore interpreted."

No Change Here, Says Stone
Arthur A. Stone, federal prohibition enforcement director for North Dakota, corroborated State's Attorney Horner in the statement that the ruling would not change the status of enforcement proceedings in this state. He expressed further and declared that the federal enforcement division in this state had always interpreted the section in question along the same line as Judge Soper. "To us there is nothing new in Judge Soper's ruling," said Mr. Stone. "We have always recognized the rights of citizens to extract the juice from fruits for home consumption as long as these were not intoxicating, whether the alcoholic content was one-half of one percent or over. But a federal permit is required for extracting juices of fruits and the person so doing must file notice of the same with the collector of internal revenue."

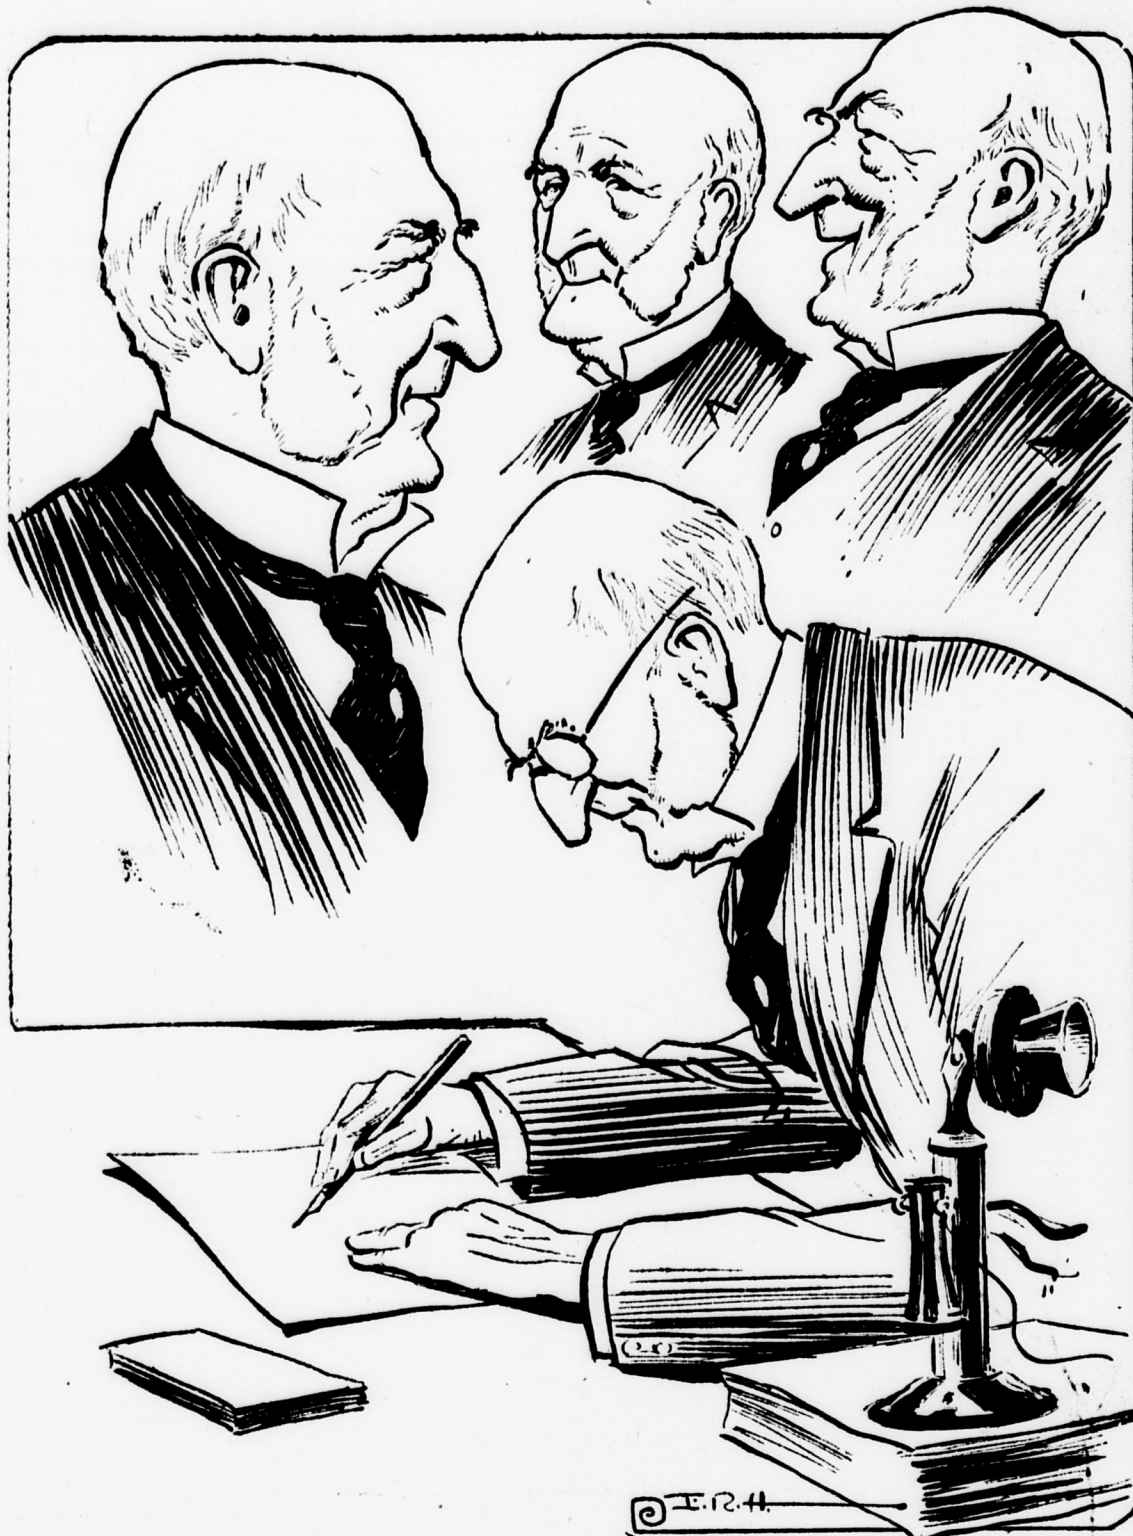

One Such Permit Here
"We have had one such permit in North Dakota and it was granted. However, such person, if his fruit juice contains more than one-half of one percent of alcohol becomes a violator of the state law, whether or not such juice is intoxicating in fact. So there is not any leeway against the one-half percent provision in North Dakota."

Mr. Stone stated that Judge Soper's decision did not apply to home brew but solely to fruit juices, such as wine and cider. "Brewing and distilling are entirely different processes than the extracting of juices from fruits," said Mr. Stone.

No Effect Here, Says Garberg
Peder B. Garberg, assistant United States district attorney in charge of prosecution of prohibition law violators, declared that his interpretation of the Volstead act had always been along the lines laid down by Judge Soper.

"I always understood that fruit juices not intoxicating could be extracted in the home for home consumption only and that this is not a violation of the Volstead act. I cannot see that Judge Soper's ruling can make any difference in enforcement proceedings in this state, especially since our state law is so explicit on the matter," said Mr. Garberg.

I'd Rather Be Funny Than President — That's What Chauncey Depew Told Artist E. R. Higgins

Chauncey Depew was busy at his desk when Artist E. R. Higgins dropped in for a chat. "Ninety-one years and the work of 'chairman of the board' of the New York Central didn't interfere with several good stories as he was being sketched. Depew told Higgins that President Garfield once said to him, 'Chauncey, you might be president if you'd quit your everlasting funny stories.' And Depew turned to Garfield and said, 'Then I'd rather not be president.'"

DAIRY COWS ON INCREASE

Gain Recorded in Burleigh County, Figures Show

Burleigh county's dairy cow population is increasing according to figures announced by the Blue Valley Creamery Institute. The statement covers an area embracing approximately one-eighth of the state in this section, and is believed to hold true for the county proper. A 1922 percent gain in the number of dairy cows two years old and over is noted for the district over the preceding year, while the increase for the state as a whole was 14.9 per cent as compared with 1923.

The entire United States shows an increase amounting to 6 per cent, government figures show. The number of heifers 1 to 2 years old as compared to the total number of cows in this district seem to be above the average, indicating the intention to bring more young stock into milk in the near future. In citing these figures the Institute calls attention to the fact that the United States needs 320,000 more cows every year if production is to keep step with the normal growth of demand for dairy products. There are 1,412,000 more cows to be fed in the United States with every passing year and with the increased consumption of dairy products per capita, this added number to the nation's herd will barely suffice to meet the increased demand.

QUICKSILVER TO GOLD PLAN TO BE TESTED

Scientific American Announces That Series of Experiments in Progress

New York, Nov. 12.—The Scientific American announced that it would direct an attempt to convert quicksilver into gold, during a series of experiments already in progress under Prof. H. H. Sheldon, department of physics, New York university.

"We believe the effort will be successful," said E. E. Froe, editor of the publication. "The experiments probably will take from two to four months."

He explained that Professor Sheldon's efforts would be directed toward confirming, by a different process, results claimed to have been achieved by Prof. Adolph Miethe during the last year at Charlottenburg Technical college at Berlin. In the meantime, a duplicate of the apparatus used by Professor Miethe is being sent here for study. The apparatus now being set up at New York university consists chiefly of a quartz lamp which incloses various tubes and electric paraphernalia. The lamp will hold about a half ounce of quicksilver vapor.

The theory is that a current of electricity of 70 volts and an amperage to be determined, will "crack" the atoms of the quicksilver, "knock off" the 80th planetary electron which differentiates quicksilver from gold and thus leave atoms with a planetary system of 79 electrons—pure gold.

The 80th electron will have to be knocked off from billions of atoms of the experiment with the half ounce of quicksilver is successful. For, as Mr. Froe said, "in the gold it takes to plate the head of a pin there are atoms enough to each person in the world could have several thousand of them."

Professor Miethe's reputed discovery that quicksilver could be transformed into gold was an accident. Using a quartz lamp and quicksilver vapor he was seeking to determine the effect of violet electric rays upon the vapor. After 200 hours of operation his apparatus became clogged. He took it apart and discovered its tubes were choked with pure gold.

Why Keep On Paying This Tax?

Everybody expects to pay some taxes, but why impose unnecessary taxes on yourself?

Do you realize that every time you drive your car on an unpaved highway you are actually taxing yourself one to four cents a mile?

This is the cost of increased repair, tire and gasoline bills.

Highway research has definitely established these facts.

Each year you tax yourself in this way a good many dollars.

Instead of spending this money for increased transportation costs, why not invest it in Concrete Highways and pay yourself some dividends?

Concrete Roads and Streets pay for themselves in the saving they effect on the cost of motoring.

Their maintenance cost is so low that this saving alone returns good dividends on the investment, year after year.

You are imposing an unnecessary tax on yourself from which you get no return, by failing to work for more Concrete Highways.

Not in a long time have general conditions been so favorable for carrying on such public works as permanent highway building.

Your highway authorities are ready to carry on their share of this great public work. But they must have your support.

Tell them you are ready to invest in more Concrete Highways, now.
